

Dear Maddamma family, I hope to make you a little happy with this gift. Many people have forced me to sell them this piece of metal that would not mean so much to them, and I am convinced that it will mean a lot to you.

To think that this dish is from your grandfather or great-grandfather is really something amazing, and  that my father is so lucky to find it after so many years is really fantastic. I am really looking forward and my heart is full when I realize that I will have someone in this world today make at least a little happy!!! :-)

I don't know how to convey to you my happiness I write this and create an image in my head, you all read this letter together, and how excited you are about the bowl. :-)

I wish you good luck in life, and love off course because she wins everything. I hope we meet someday!

P.S. I sent you these sweets to sweeten up a bit as you read this... :-D

Many greetings from the Sotirovic family from Serbia
